WEST LIBERTY, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1957

7c A COPY — $3 A YEAR

5 CHURCHES ARE BENEFICIARIES IN LYNN WELLS WILL

State Representative Lynn B. Wells, well known West Liberty attorney who died July 18, bequeathed $1,000 in cash to each of the five churches in West Liberty, it was disclosed today when his will was probated in Morgan County Court here.

Requests to the churches were made in a codicil to his will dated April 22, 1957.

His will was dated Dec. 22, 1955 and was witnessed by Jay Burton and Davis Graham Burton.

The five churches he listed to receive $1,000 each are the West Liberty Christian Church (of which he was a member), the West Liberty Methodist Church, the West Liberty Baptist Church, the West Liberty Church of God and the West Liberty First Church of God.

He named his wife, Jewel D. Wells as executrix of his will and of his estate, to serve without bond.

In his will he bequeathed to his brothers and sisters $6,000 each. They are: Claude Wells, Mrs. Ida Short, James K. Wells, and Edward K. Wells.

To his adopted daughter, Catherine Tait, he also bequeathed $6,000.

To his wife he bequeathed all his personal property, all his real estate and all his property in fee simple.

The codicil, dated April 22, 1957, contained the bequests to West Liberty churches. The codicil also bequeathed to his niece and nephew, Janice Ann Johnston and Johnnie Johnston, $5,000 each. And to his foster daughter's children, Ellen and Betty Tait, he willed $5,000 each.

The codicil also named these additional bequests to his wife: eight lots on 45th street in Ashland, 20 acres of oil rights in Oklahoma, all life and accident insurance policies and certain notes due him.

The will contained these two paragraphs:

"I bequeath my soul to the Great Democracy of the dead where all men at last are equal, where there is neither rank or station, nor prerogative, and the Republic of the dead at this Pateful Threshold, the philosopher ceases to be wise, and the song of the poet is silent, 'DIVES' gives up his riches, and LAZARUS his rags, and the debtor is acquitted of his obligations; the poor man is as rich as the richest, and the rich man is as poor as the PAUPER. There the proud man or woman, being succumb to dignity, the POLITICIAN his honor, the worldling his pleasures, the INVALID needs no more the Physician, and the Laborer rests from his unrequited toil, when each human being succumbs to the inevitable adversary DEATH, who disarms alike the VICTOR and the VANQUISHED.

"CHRISTIAN RELIGION would answer the inquiry by teaching that there is life beyond the grave, that DEATH does not end all conscious existence, and holds to an unwavering faith, but that life as we know it is just the germ of IMMORTALITY. (I subscribe to this belief fully).

Stores robbed were the Wrigley Cash Store owned by Henry Cleveringer and Ray Whit's used furniture and grocery store and the highway. Both stores had been entered by breaking windows in the back of the buildings.

Cleveringer said the thieves took $50 in cash from the cash drawer and $16 in cash that a patron had left for Gaston Howard, also a 22 repeating rifle, a wrist watch and possibly other merchandise.

Whit said the thieves had stayed in his store long enough to eat ice cream and candy from his stock, and had taken a quantity of cigarettes and $4 or $5 from the cash drawer, all that was in it.

Redwine Store Robbed

SANDY HOOK, Ky., July 23—Robbers broke into the Redwine Farm Supply store in Sandy Hook Monday night and stole merchandise estimated at between $200 and $300.

The firm is operated by Faye Redwine. She said the robbers took three shotguns, two rifles, a quantity of shells, some auto batteries, one electric fan, three pressure canners, a Sunbeam coffee maker and various small electrical appliances.

Sheriff June Lewis, who is investigating the robbery, said the thieves gained entrance by forcing the front door. The lock had been broken and the door facing had been splintered.

On the same night, the WWW Chevrolet Sales at Ezel, Morgan county, reported a robber had broken into their building and had cracked the safe. Amount of the loss at Ezel was $425 in cash and an electric fan. Entrance was gained by prizing open a window.

FIVE BUSINESS HOUSES ROBBED IN NEARBY AREA

Biggest Haul Made
At WWW Chevrolet
By Cracking Safe

Sheriffs of three counties assisted by State Police are investigating robberies of five business places in Morgan, Elliott and Wolfe counties early this week.

Robberies were committed at Sandy Hook, Wrigley, Ezel and Stillwater. Biggest haul was $425 in cash from the safe of W.W.W. Chevrolet Sales Company at Ezel.

Sheriff Aaron Lykins of Morgan county said Thursday two youths had been arrested as suspects in robbery of two stores at Wrigley and that he found $32 in silver and bills in their shoes.

Crack Safe At Ezel

Robbers sometime Monday night broke into the W.W.W. Chevrolet Sales Company office at Ezel, cracked a safe and stole $425 in currency, two 38 caliber Smith & Wesson pistols and an electric fan.

Eugene Wilson, part owner of the firm, said robbers entered the office by prizing open a window. Then they got tools from the workshop in the garage to prize open the company safe. Wilson said they had used truck tire tools and a drive shaft to open the safe. The safe measured 20x20x30 inches inside. The currency and pistols were taken from the safe. The fan was picked up from the office.

Sheriff Aaron Lykins and State Troopers Fraley and Sluse investigated the case. The robbers had on gloves when they pulled the job, officers said.

Wilson said the robbers had battered the safe "all to pieces," and added, "They must have been in the office two or three hours."

Stillwater Store Robbed

Monday morning before 6 a.m. robbers broke into the store of B. R. Rose at Stillwater on Ky-15, five miles south of Hazel Green, and took a number of electric fans, several pairs of shoes, and a quantity of cigarettes.

They thought the two were customers. Neighbors nearby reported seeing a red car speeding off a little later toward Hazel Green.

After a robbery at the store about a year ago, Mr. and Mrs. Rose had slept in the store to guard it. "Just a week ago we started going back to the house about daylight to get our breakfast, usually returning to the store between 5:30 and 6 o'clock," Mrs. Rose said.

LAND PRICES HOLD

The general upward trend applies to land prices, despite all the troubles farmers are said to have. The Department of Agriculture at Washington says general prices reductions for farm land are not in sight for this year. Prices are 8 to 10 per cent up in 21 states, and down in only four states. Here's some of the explanation: "Many farmers are buying more land because of the fear of further inflation. Good crops in some of the drought areas have made farmers optimistic, and have boosted land prices. Cities, factories and new roads are helping to build up the demand for land."

WRONG VIEW

Picture windows, he contends, often provide inmates with little more than a "clear view of the public highway and its endless procession of automobiles."

One solution is to situate exterior walls facing the streets almost solidly with Southern Pine lumber, while restricting the glass area to the opposite interior wall, which in turn opens onto a secluded central courtyard.

DON'T WORRY OVER
THE LITTLE THINGS

(By Norman Vincent Peale)
In the more important things of life, a great secret is to learn to take things as they come and not fret about them. It's only a little thing, the weather is, and we must never let little things bother us and get us down. As I said before, the person who co-operates with the inevitable gets the inevitable on his side. So on vacation turn the weather to good advantage. For example, how long it is since you read a good book? When did you last look into the Bible? How long ago was it that you sat down with your thoughts and really took stock of yourself? When was it that you last prayed? Actually, in the long run, you can get more real good from any one of these activities than from anything you could do on the most beautiful of days.

Learn to adjust to God's plan—and the little things will never bother you.

PRICES HIGHER

Increased production is failing to hold the prices of many things down. Farm feed costs, for instance, are two per cent higher than a year ago, despite bumper production of most crops. This could be the result of increased demand for corn, hay and other feeds. But it probably is just the general trend of about everything to be priced higher regardless of supply and demand. Fertilizer manufacturers claim they have not advanced their prices. Bully for them!

Hubley Launches Eastern Kentucky Surveying Project

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 21—Commissioner George W. Hubley of the Kentucky State Department of Economic Development, has announced a program to step up the survey of mineral, fuel and water resources of East Kentucky. Hubley said the plan, submitted at his request by the U. S. Geological Survey, has been approved and preliminary work is underway.

To finance the project, $25,000 was made available last February by Gov. A. B. Chandler from his emergency fund. State money will be matched by Federal funds.

Hubley said the plans call for completion of this phase of the program during the 1958 fiscal year. The work is being carried on with the Federal government and coordinated through the Division of Maps and Minerals.

A summary of the plan calls for:

Completion of three coal reports.

Establishment of a coal resources data file at the Kentucky Geological Survey in Lexington.

Augmentation of the existing program of work on refractory clay.

Geologic mapping for coal and clay resources and reserve data.

A study and report on the quantity, quality and availability of ground and surface waters of the region.

Hubley said the plan "is a sound one offering maximum benefits for the money expended."

John R. Hutchins, acting director of the Maps and Mineral Division, explained that the data compiled in the survey will have a continuing value to any long range programs involving economic and social studies of the region.

OBITUARY

LYNN B. WELLS

Lynn B. Wells departed this life for another phase of existence July 18, 1957 at the age of 64 years, 6 months and 18 days. He was united in marriage to Jewel Johnson on Nov. 29, 1928 and they have a foster daughter, Mrs. Catherine Tant of Tuscaloosa, Alabama. He also has two brothers, James K. Wells of Middletown, Ohio and Claude of West Liberty, one sister, Mrs. Ida Short of West Liberty, a half brother, Edward Wells of Greaser, Ky., two grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

He was largely a self educated man, yet he held several offices and positions of prominence, having taught school for several years, was County Attorney, State Bank Examiner, legal advisor with the Veterans' Administration, postmaster, County Judge, Commonwealth's Attorney and had almost completed his second term in the State Legislature.

When a young man he united with the West Liberty Christian Church. He was also a member of the Masonic Highland Lodge, American Legion, V. F. W., American Bar Association and others.

From the beginning of his life to the end Lynn dared to be himself. He never copied any human being. He was a man of force, of individuality, of critical opinion who believed that one little original idea was worth more than a hundred borrowed from another. He was never a social climber and never posed as a being of culture, but he was always a man who did what he wanted to do, it might be said of him that he consistently lived the kind of life he preferred.

A knowledge of what he wanted from life, courage, dauntless courage, a willingness to be himself, to unearth his own genius, a certainty of success, the qualifications responsible for his success.

He was happiest when helping others and it can truly be said that he was a "friend and neighbor" to all mankind.

Last rites were conducted from the West Liberty Christian church by Rev. J. R. Nevius, assisted by Rev. Harlan Murphy and W. H. Wells.

PATRICK

Lou Emma Patrick was born Aug. 19, 1894. She was married to Bruce Patrick Oct. 24, 1910. FBI AGENT IS FINED $1,000

BOWLING GREEN, Ky.—Federal District Judge Mac Swinford yesterday called an FBI agent's refusal to turn over his records to the court in an alleged fraud case "defiance of the worst kind," and fined the agent $1,000.

Judge Swinford voiced his reluctance to fine agent Marcus Wallace, but said a recent Supreme Court decision relating to FBI records must be followed in the case.

The Supreme Court ruled June 3 that the government must make available to defendants information in FBI or other files obtained from persons it wishes to use as witnesses in a criminal case. Otherwise, the court said, the prosecution must be dropped.

Wallace said he refused to hand over the records on the advice of the attorney general's office in Washington. Swinford said, in view of that, he would wait until Oct. 18 to impose sentence. The judge gave the agent that amount of time to come "again with you," superiors.

The fine came as E. H. Hall, a local contractor, went on trial on a charge of filing false statements and documents to obtain Federal Housing Authority (FHA) loans. Hall was one of the seven contractors indicted on such a charge.

The defense asked July 8 for dismissal of the cases, but the petition was refused. The defense then asked to see government records on the case and Swinford instructed Wallace to produce them yesterday.

After Wallace failed to produce the records, Swinford read a lengthy statement, which said, in part: "The integrity of the FBI and its agents must be preserved, but the right of an individual also must be preserved. The prosecution should be void of surprise of the witness at the time of the trial."

A government agency should uphold rather than belittle the sanctity and integrity of a court," Swinford said he could not understand "why the U. S. Government would object to full compliance of a Supreme Court decision."

The judge added, however, that he realized Wallace was merely "acting in orders from your superiors."

The FBI in Washington declined comment.

Doctors Unable To Diagnose Illness of Elliott County Man

SANDY HOOK, Ky., July 23—Curt Duval, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, has been moved from a Xenia, Ohio hospital to Dayton, Ohio, where he submitted to major surgery Thursday. His mother, Mrs. Eula Duval, stayed with him all last week and returned home Saturday. She thought Curt was resting some better. His illness has been strange to the doctors, because they can't determine the cause. It was diagnosed in the early stages to be pneumonia and later thought to be rabbit fever. The doctors went into his chest last week and removed part of a lung for tests to determine the cause of the sudden malady which caused Curt, who is in his early thirties.

T.B. RATE CLIMBING
Tuberculosis in Kentucky is again on the upswing. A report from the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association for the first half of 1957 shows the number of new cases of active TB discovered in the state to be running close to seven per cent higher than last year.

This bears out an earlier report in March from the state TB association which showed a case increase of about 10% for the first quarter of this year.

Kentucky has the third highest state TB case rate in the nation with about 12,000 of its citizens suffering from the disease.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By
Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

"UNDER the Tenth Amendment, all powers not prohibited by the Constitution to the States are reserved to the States respectively or to the people; the power to operate racially separate schools was prohibited to the States by the Fourteenth Amendment or by any other provision of the Constitution, but on the contrary was clearly understood to be reserved to them; therefore, that power remains vested in the States respectively to this day, and can be prohibited to them only by amendment of the Constitution itself, and not by any judicial construction."

The above quotation is by James Jackson Kilpatrick, in his new book, "The Sovereign States," should be read in connection with the following sentence from George Washington's Farewell Address:

"But let there be no change by usurpation; for, though this, in one instance, may be the instrument of good, it is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed."

Kilpatrick points out that the whole question of the stability of the Constitution and even of the stability of the States themselves are at stake. If that be true, then the stability of the Union itself is the grave question before us.

Priming Burley Tobacco Is A Profitable Practice

Priming burley tobacco in most years will increase both yield and value of the crop per acre, says the Kentucky Experiment Station.

The practice—removing leaves from the plant as they ripen—tends to "push" the thin-bodied (desirable) leaves up the plant and thus improve the over-all quality, says C. E. Bortner, tobacco scientist.

The majority of burley is "stalk cut" at harvest time, i.e., none of the leaves are removed before this cutting operation; consequently, in certain years, many of the ripe leaves drop off the plant and are lost.

"Priming's greatest possibilities lie in the field of quality," Bortner says. "By removing the bottom three to four leaves in the first priming, the grower, knowing those leaves are safe in the barn, will allow the remainder of the plant to stay in the field until ripe; this improves the over all quality of the crop."

Priming more than once may save additional leaves which, if properly cured, will be of higher quality than when stalk-cut. With two primings and stalk-cutting, the grower will be thin-bodied tobacco on the bottom of the stalk cut plant, an additional increase in quality.

Three primings, Bortner says, has in all years tested prevented loss of any leaves, remainder of leaves on the stalk-cut plants also were better quality. Priming more than three times has not been proved profitable as yet, Bortner says; the third priming itself also was not profitable except in wet years when leaf damage loss on unprimed tobacco was heavy.

"Full effect of priming on quality has not been recognized as yet because the price incentive has not been sufficiently large for this type of tobacco to pay for the labor necessary to prime beyond the point of saving leaves," he says.

Curing primed leaves properly is highly necessary; in all but the best curing years, some additional heat will be necessary, Bortner warned.

Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service Leaflet No. 92 (revised) and Circular No. 483 furnish full data on priming.

Asiatic Flu Positively Noted In Breathitt; Boy Scout Is Exposed

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 20—State Health Department officials tonight said "highly contagious" Asiatic flu has stricken Breathitt County in force.

Dr. S. Stephen Chapman, scientific director of the department's laboratories here, said tests made of 12 out of 24 cases in Breathitt County verified the nature of the disease.

The tests, completed tonight, marked the first time the virus has been isolated in the Midwest, Dr. Chapman said.

He added the State Health Department has been alerted to the danger of further spread of the disease by Boy Scouts returning from the National Boy Scout Jamboree which ended Thursday at Valley Forge, Pa.

The U. S. Public Health Service has reported 350 cases of Asiatic flu among the 53,000 Scouts attending the Jamboree, Dr. Chapman said.

As in Breathitt County, he added, the disease is believed to have been introduced by persons coming from California who developed it after it was introduced on the West Coast.

Those stricken in Breathitt County were Quakers attending a camp in the Morris Fork community in association with the American Friends Society.

The disease is believed to have been brought in by three persons who arrived July 3 from California.

The 4-H Club camp at Quick-sand swimming pools in Jackson and Bible schools throughout Breathitt County have been closed.

Non Seriously Ill

No one, however, has been reported seriously ill there.

Dr. Chapman said the death rate is about one in 1,000. At present, he added, the flu is described as "mild." However, he said, it could become worse.

He said an attack lasts from three to six days, and features high fever, roughness of the throat and a cough.

Disease Highly Contagious

It is called "more contagious than the common cold" and usually hits 30 to 50 per cent of the population in the epidemic stages, he said.

The port of entry for the disease so far is believed to be California and Newport, R. I., where outbreaks have been traced to persons returning from abroad.

One of the earliest outbreaks occurred early this month at Grinnell, Iowa, where a national Presbyterian Church conference had to be cancelled.

The disease was traced to a California delegate.

Pallet Booklet Offered Free

FRANKFORT, Ky.—The first in a series of booklets describing opportunities in small manufacturing operations has been published by the Department of Economic Development.

The booklet, "Wood Pallet Manufacturing," gives an insight into organization and operation of this business.

Frank Lebus, Jr., director of agricultural development, said the booklet may be obtained free from the agency.

The publication is primarily intended to encourage establishment of more small industries in rural communities. "The need for 'new jobs' is especially great in those areas where farm income is low and other employment opportunities are scarce."

The next booklet in the series, "Expanding Opportunities for Broiler Production in Kentucky," will be ready for distribution soon, Lebus said. This booklet is directed toward the broiler processor showing him the potential market in south central Kentucky.

Other booklets planned in the series are on charcoal production and hardwood flooring plants.

Distribution of the books will be made to chambers of commerce, foresters, and county agents.

BAPTIST ASSIGN SPEAKER

CLEANERS COME TO H'MOON HOLLAR

FLORRESS, Ky., July 23—(By Nora Easterling)—The first time known in history Stafford's Dry Cleaners' truck was driven up Honeymoon Hollar by Earnston Endicott and Elizabeth Baker Endicott, newlyweds of a few weeks. Those kids were really going after dirty clothes.

Walter Easterling celebrated his 49th birthday Thursday, July 18, in Floyd county preaching and turtle hunting. He held services at Daniel's Creek, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and turtle hunting on Johns Creek, Buffalo, Ival, Brushy Fork and Daniel's Creek. Reports 14 turtles.

Mrs. Nora Easterling visited her mother, Mrs. Alfred Johnson, Liddle V. Adkins, Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. James P. Johnson on Cow Branch Sunday. The James P. Johnsons motored over to Teck Franklins to give me a lift on my way home.

Rev. E. T. Nickell is a little better after a serious heart condition.

Mrs. Alice Suptin is very ill. Those to see her Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Conley and children, Mrs. U. G. Easterling and Randolph Frederlek. The Suptins plan to go to Florida to see if the climate will help Alice.

Conley visited his grandmother Naomi Conley at Matthew Sunday and reports she will be home soon.

Mrs. Rachel Conley of Matthew visited Mrs. Mary S. Lemaster Sunday.

"Mr. Turpin" Thirsty

There is a spring about 100 feet up on the hill in James C. Conley's pasture that doesn't go dry. During dry seasons we have carried water to wash with and for kitchen use. James went up last Thursday to clean out the spring. A large terrapin was cooling in the water. He carried "Mr. Turpin" to the bottom of the hill to the branch and dropped him. The next afternoon Conley went to see if the spring had cleared—and—right back in the same spot sat the same terrapin. Conley decided "Mr. Turpin" had earned his drinking water and let him be.

Some One's Home

Mrs. Albert McClure asked if we remembered Kitty and Jim Noah Romans? Their old home place is in the head of the left hand fork of "Honeymoon Hollar." The house has been torn down, only part of a stack chimney left. There are sprouts and briars everywhere, but the Myrtle vine and pinks and a cool spring of water proves someone lived there and loved a spot in this hollow.

Mocking Bird Hill

Weed cutting time on Mocking Bird Hill is here, as school days draw near. Mrs. Lou and Billy Conley will soon start their twice daily walks over Mocking Bird Hill—our route to the Lacy Creek gravelled road from Honeymoon Hollar. Also my route to our mail box. Mocking Bird Hill is an old country road through a wooded hill. It is so cool, quiet and peaceful to walk over, with nothing but the wind in the trees, the birds singing and a squirrel or rabbit to break the stillness. There is no hill so pleasant as our Mocking Bird Hill.

$380 CHECK PRESENTED CHILDREN'S HOME

Three of the six Boy Scouts from Morgan county who attended the Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge were guests of the Kiwanis Club at its dinner meeting Wednesday and told of their experience at the International Boy Scout gathering.

The three were Darryl Spencer, Ronnie Hargreaves and Tommy Oldfield. They were guests of Dr. Alec Spencer, program leader at the meeting.

Six Morgan County Boy Scouts attended the Valley Forge gathering of Scouts. The other three were Dannie McKenzie, Billie M. Gardner and Leonard Ruth.

The six from Morgan joined others from the Bluegrass Council at Lexington and went by chartered bus to Valley Forge. They were gone 11 days, spending three days in travel and seven at the Jamboree.

Darryl Spencer showed pictures of the camp and a map of Valley Forge battlefield. Boys from each state told products representative of their states to trade. Kentucky boys for the most part took tobacco. The West Liberty Scouts came back with gold ore from Colorado, marble rocks from Vermont, lobster claw from the south, etc. Religious services were held regularly. At the Protestant service, Scouts donated $10,000 for the World Fellowship fund.

Activities besides cooking, washing dishes, etc., included rifle and archery ranges, talent contests, tours to nearby places of interest, including Philadelphia, speeches by noted speakers including the Vice President.

Dr. Spencer announced that next year Morgan Scouts who qualify will be taken to Philmont Ranch in Arizona for three weeks of exploring.

TOLIVERS BROUGHT FIRST MULES TO OLD MORGAN

Mrs. John L. Clay of Morehead, a great-granddaughter of Hugh Toliver who came from Virginia back in 1866 and lived for awhile at the old log house on Salem, called us on the phone Monday to see if The Courier had any copies left of the paper that carried the story, "House of A Forgotten Tragedy." The feature article was carried in The Courier and Elliott News in March and told about historical events in the old log house known as the Aunt Em Chaney place on Grassy Creek. In our conversation, Mrs. Clay mentioned that her great grandfather brought the first mules to Morgan county from Virginia and she said people came from miles around to see the mules.

ROBIE FERGUSON IS SCION OF ELDER DANIEL WILLIAMS

Elder Robie Ferguson of Terryville, moderator of the Burning Springs Association of Primitive Baptists for the past five years, is a great-grandson of Elder Daniel Williams, first moderator and co-organizer of the association in 1813.

Robie is a son of Ambrose Ferguson who was a son of Elder William Ferguson. And Elder William Ferguson's wife was a daughter of Squire John T. Williams, son of Elder Daniel Williams.

Annual association meeting of the Burning Springs Association will be held this year at the Walnut Grove church at Stacy Park Aug. 16, 17 and 18.

The early Baptist preacher, Elder Daniel Williams, came into Morgan county about 1800 and preached over a wide section, organizing eight churches. These eight churches became a part of the Burning Springs Association when it was organized in 1813 and William was elected first moderator.

Alfalfa hay cured in a sack to save all the leaves contained 22 percent total protein and only 16 percent fiber compared with 16 percent protein and 30 percent fiber in other high-quality alfalfa hay, say Illinois experimenters.

Pasteurization does not affect the nutritive value of milk, but it does protect its health qualities.

Trappers Capture More Furs In '57

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 22.—Kentucky trappers caught more fur animals but received less money for them during the 1956-57 season than in the preceding season, a game official said.

Armed L. Mitchell, game division director of the State Fish & Wildlife Resources Department, said the fur harvest increased nine percent in number of furs but decreased 15 percent in total value.

He said the information was obtained from reports of 155 licensed dealers. The number of fur buyers has been practically the same for the past several years with a slight drop last year, Mitchell added.

Muskrat furs, he said, topped the list in total numbers this year, followed by raccoon, mink and opossum.

Leaf Growers Urged To Combat Attacks On Tobacco Industry

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 21.—Tobacco growers were urged today to "speak out again vicious and unwarranted attacks being made against the tobacco industry."

In a statement, A. G. Clay, Mt. Sterling, president of the Burley Auction Warehouse Association, said, "There appears to be a well-organized propaganda campaign designed to destroy our industry."

Clay said he referred to "re-claims that there is a connection between smoking and lung cancer and to recent legislation introduced to end tobacco-price supports on the ground that smoking may be a cause of lung cancer."

In a letter to Senator Richard Neuberger (D., Ore.), who introduced the bill, Clay said, in part: "The growers, producers, manufacturers and distributors of tobacco consider themselves good citizens and reasonably honest people."

"I believe you could say, without exception, that if they really believed that the use of tobacco caused cancer they would rather be digging ditches than producing or selling such a product."

"On the contrary, we believe that tobacco has not been proven guilty of these charges, but that our industry is the victim of a vicious and well-planned propaganda campaign designed to destroy us."

In his statement, Clay said that in his letter to Neuberger, he quoted Dr. Joseph Berkson, chief of the section of biometry and medical statistics of Rochester, Minn., Mayo Clinic, as saying: "It is unwarranted to conclude from the present statistical studies that smoking does cause cancer."

In his letter to Neuberger, Clay said 700,000 farms are growing tobacco, "which ranks as one of the largest cash crops in America. More than 3,000,000 people living on farms depend upon tobacco as a prime source of income."

"At least another 500,000 people are involved in the production, processing and manufacturing of tobacco products. Several million more are involved in the retail distribution through 1,500,000 outlets and the servicing of all facets of the tobacco industry."

"As a $5,000,000,000 industry at retail, tobacco contributes more than $2,000,000,000 annually to federal and local treasuries in direct taxation alone and possibly at least another $500,000,000 in corporate and other taxes, thus providing a major source of revenue to the Government."

"We feel that the tobacco industry contributes vitally to the economy of our country and that, instead of being condemned before proven guilty, we should be entitled to a fair trial and granted enough time for scientific research to provide the answers to the questions that have been raised."

Clay told reporters today that Dr. Clarence Cook Little of the scientific advisory board of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee recently testified:

"Nonsmokers get lung cancer. The vast majority of heavy smokers never get lung cancer. Obviously, there is no simple cause-and-effect mechanism resulting from cigarette smoking."

Clay added: "It certainly appears that all of these attacks are being made by headline seekers and for the purpose of fund-raising campaigns." He did not elaborate.
